Supporting public safety during Los Angeles wildfires

As first responders continue to battle the devastating California wildfires, the FirstNet® Response Operations Group™ (ROG) is working around the clock to support public safety. "Our thoughts are with the entire L.A. community, and we will continue to be there in the weeks and months ahead throughout the recovery efforts," said Scott Agnew, President, FirstNet Program at AT&T. Together with local AT&T teams and AT&T Network Disaster Recovery (NDR), FirstNet has deployed dedicated FirstNet deployable assets as well as AT&T Super Cells on Wheels (Super COWs) at public safety's beachfront incident command post to provide critical connectivity for first responders.
